

Andrea Long: Community Program Director

Andrea Long brings more than 10 years marketing and event planning to her position at the American Canyon Community & Parks Foundation. Andrea's diverse marketing career includes more than five years in community parks & recreation marketing and programming in addition to experience in the commercial real estate, non-profit and technology business sectors. Her marketing skills include media relations, graphic design, event planning and marketing plan development. She served as Marketing & Special Events Supervisor for both the Prospect Heights Park and Des Plaines Park Districts in Illinois before returning to California and getting involved in the American Canyon community. Before joining the staff of the American Canyon Community & Parks Foundation, she was an active Board member serving as Co-Chair for the inaugural An Evening at the Ruins fundraiser, Membership Chair and Secretary. She most recently served as the Marketing and Membership Manager for the American Canyon Chamber of Commerce. She holds a BS degree in Public Relations from San Jose State University and is an active volunteer in the American Canyon community. Co-Chair for the inaugural An Evening at the Ruins fundraiser, Membership Chair and Secretary. She most recently served as the Marketing and Membership Manager for the American Canyon Chamber of Commerce. She holds a BS degree in Public Relations from San Jose State University and is an active volunteer in the American Canyon community.